District 10 is the largest, most sprawled out district and its boundaries really don't make any sense. It is very difficult for someone to represent all the areas included well.

My suggestion would be to square it up better. Take out Wakulla and Franklin Counties, put in all of Jefferson County, put in County, take out the part of Columbia County, leave Dixie County in but take out Levy County. District 11 could pick up the rest of Columbia County and Levy County. (or something like that)

That would make much better sense geographically and the constituents could be better represented.

Thank you for your consideration.
